Mrs. Broughton, our merchant's wife, found the famous cabbage snake in a head she was preparing for dinner. She said it was a well developed reptile about 4 inches long, perfect snake head and tongue, coiled up and jumped at a fly that pestered it, and struck with vengeance like other snakes. The upper half was deep red, while the other was paler when viewed with the naked eye, but spotted when put under a glass. She eats no more cabbage. We would like to hear from some of our doctors and scientists.

Answer to Livingston correspondent's question: You mean to say "Acts 2; 38. Repent and be baptized for the remission of sins." The word "for" is in some instances used as a conj. and in others it is a prep.—more frequently a prep., depending of course on meaning and use. A conj. usually connects only while a prep. connects words and at the same time shows a relation of its object with a preceding word. The obj. and prep. form an adjunct modifying the antecedent term. Hence, we can clearly see that "for" is a prep. showing a relationship between its obj. remission, and the antecedent term, repent and be baptized, "of sins," is an adjunct to remission. Now we can clearly see that the Jews, on the day of Pentecost were commanded to both repent and be baptized for the same purpose and can't be rendered otherwise unless we change the reading thus: "Repent for remission of sins and be baptized." I want no controversy.

We have no news but could fill our column with personals and visits, but it would not be interesting. Some of our folks attended the fair at Somerset. Politics is putting in her electioneering dress and will warm things up by the 15th of November. Poplar Grove church will receive the finishing touch this week, and quite a creditable structure for any country congregation or church.

Rev. James Cummins will preach at Mt. Pleasant and Poplar Grove this year.—Jep Mullins went visiting Sunday.—H. W. Brown and wife spent Sunday with J. N. Brown helping to make a long, wearisome day pleasant and fit did too. What a blessing good friends are when we come to the bed of affliction—only one thing on earth beats it and it is worth all else.

Now I will begin a series of Bible questions, running from Genesis along the whole Bible to Revelations: What is the first promise made to man after the fall? What law or command was given the antediluvians? What is the difference between the law of Moses, the moral law, and the law spoken of in connection with the prophets—the law and the prophets? I may have asked some of these before, but they have not been answered. These are for sisters in particular and the —. Rev. Sawyer, of the M. E. Church, South, who resides at Brodhead, came to our place and made two speeches recently. He said some very hard things about some of our citizens.—George Owens is wearing out by degrees; kept up now by opiates only.—O, how we dread death, but if we only fully understood what changes we undergo, what new order of things we enter, death would not be such a terror. It is a gate where two eternities meet; it opens, we step through leaving that and those that was or is most dear to us. Let us prepare to be with good people when we leave here.

BUCK VARNON.

ARE YOU ENGAGED?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor, and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." Sold by Mt. Vernon Drug Co., who sells and guarantees them; price 50-cents a bottle.

SAYERS.

J. R. Taylor bought of J. M. Craig a nice horse. "Deck" says he paid $125, but we doubt it very much. He also says he has quit the road for all time to come and that he intends to marry, settle down and go to living like somebody.—A number of persons from here are attending the Baptist Association at Pisgah this week.—M. G. Dowell and Walter Owens have returned from the mountains.—Some few have begun cutting corn.

Miss Helen Sayers has returned from a several days' visit to Shelby City, Linnetta Spring and other points.—Fred Thompson, of Lebanon Junction, is visiting friends and relatives here.—John Cable, who has been in Indiana for past year, has returned for a two month's visit.—Like our Brodhead correspondent, we would ask the people to report all items of interest to us. We can't know everything that is happening and sometimes we forget what we do know. So help us out.—The writer attended the teachers association held at Maple Grove school house Saturday. The whole program was enjoyable, but most of it was the good dinner which one never fails to get when in that splendid community, but way down in our heart we sympathize with Bill Dooley, who, after eating only two big pieces of roast, one piece of ham, three pieces of chicken, two pies and a cake, drank so much vinegar (just because the girls told him to) that he could not eat any more. We also enjoyed a trip to the mines at Johnetta Sunday afternoon on the automobile. We have traveled faster but we don't care to be on that car when it goes faster, although the motorman said he was running at only half speed.

THREE JURORS CURED

Of Cholera Morbus with One Small Bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Mr. G. W. Fowler, of Hightower, Ala., relates an experience he had while serving on a petit jury in a murder case at Edwardsville, county seat of Cleburne county, Ala. He says: "While there I ate some fresh meat and some souse meat and it gave me cholera morbus in a very severe form. I was never more sick in my life and sent to the drugstore for a certain cholera mixture, but the druggist sent me a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy instead, saying that he had what I sent for, but that this medicine was so much better he would rather send it to me in the fix I was in. I took one dose of it and was better in five minutes. The second dose cured me entirely. Two fellow jurors were afflicted in the same manner and one twenty-five cent bottle cured the three of us." For sale by all druggists.

There are bright days in store for Livingston, yet.—It is strange how some persons can go about the world with a spirit of hate in their bosoms for certain persons and affairs from which they are never exempt. For years they pass and repass acquaintances and never speak, living neighbors they never commune together, and the best things they can say about the objects of their enmity are hard words and execrations. Often such conditions exist between blood relatives whose very ties of kinship should make them love and bear with each other if nothing else would. And, just as often you find members of the Church, professed Christians, harboring the spirit of implacable hatred, which is one of the devil's chief graces. No wonder the world is full of trouble and sorrow, and evil influences, when the cold specters of malignity are forever stalking among us. It is only these strange characters who would on a bridge that dark chasm of hatred with a word of love and fellowship, they would be surprised at the joy and peace it would bring to their souls.—Ex.

LUCKY MISTAKE.—When James Gordon Bennett the elder was editor of the Herald, Robert Bonner, publisher of the New York Ledger, was struggling to build up its circulation and decided to try a little advertisement consisting of eight words—"Read Mrs. Southworth's new story in the Ledger"—and sent it to the Herald marked for "one line." Mr. Bonner's handwriting was so bad that the words were read in the Herald office as "one page." Accordingly the line was set up and repeated so as to occupy one entire page. Mr. Bonner was thunderstruck the next morning. He had not to his name money enough to pay the bill. He rushed excitedly over to the Herald office, but was too late to do any good. In a short time the results of the page announcement began to be felt. Orders for the Ledger poured in until the entire edition was exhausted, and another one was printed. The success of the Ledger was then established. Ever after that time Mr. Bonner was an ardent believer in advertising and a liberal purchaser of space.—Ex.

A telegram from Sherman says the body was detained for the Coroner's inquest, and that it is now positively known that he was murdered. After he left Russellville a warrant was sworn out for his arrest, charging him with accepting a bribe to save Fletcher's life. Fletcher will be returned to Bowling Green and the soldiers sent home.

With the exception of a single portion of the text the draft of the Russo-Japanese treaty of peace was completed Saturday at Portsmouth. It is possible the treaty may be signed Monday. After the treaty is signed the President will issue a formal statement in regard to his connection with the negotiations.

FIFTY CENTS

IN some conditions the gain from the use of Scott's Emulsion is very rapid. For this reason we put up a fifty-cent size, which is enough for an ordinary cough or cold or useful as a trial for babies and children. In other conditions the gain is slower—health cannot be built up in a day. In such cases Scott's Emulsion must be taken as nourishment; a food rather than a medicine. It's a food for tired and weak digestions.

BLACK DRAUGHT STOCK & POULTRY MEDICINE

This great stock medicine is a money saver for stock raisers. It is a medicine, not a cheap food or condition powder. Though put up in corner form than Theford's Black-Draught, renowned for the cure of the digestion troubles of persons, it has the same qualities of invigorating digestion, stirring up the torpid liver and loosening the constipated bowels for all stock and poultry. It is carefully prepared and its action is so healthful that stock grow and thrive with an occasional dose in their food. It cures hog cholera and makes hogs grow fat. It cures chicken cholera and roup and makes hens lay. It cures constipation, distemper and colds in horses, murrain in cattle, and makes a draught animal do more work for the foot consumed. It gives animals and fowl of all kinds new life. Every farmer and raiser should certainly give it a trial. It costs 25c. a can and saves ten times its price in profit.

PITTSBURG, KAN., March 25, 1904.
I have been using your Black-Draught Stock and Poultry Medicine on my stock for some time. I have used all kinds of stock food but I have found that yours is the best for my purpose.

sep 13 DAVID M. PRESTON

Geo. D. Burdett, who was well known here thirty years ago and who later ran a big store in Lancaster, and afterwards did business in Chicago, now holds a responsible position with the Citizens Life Insurance Co., of Louisville.

FOR ASSESSOR.

We are authorized to announce J. N. Hix, as an independent candidate for Assessor of Rockcastle county, subject to the action of the good people at the November election, 1905.

We are glad to know that the Christian church building and grounds are soon to have some much needed improvement, in the way of new coat of paint and iron fence.

The local telephone exchange manager, Mr. James Maret, has had his friends to come far and near to inspect his crop of apples. He has one tree from which he has gathered several apples which weigh more than a pound, and measure 1 1/2 inches in circumference. They are known as the Wolf's River.

The Christian and Baptist Church members should have a meeting and come to some conclusion as to what they could best use their buildings for, as from the outlook, they have evidently abandoned all efforts of trying to get a pastor for either of the Churches. Church members and God fearing people, what effect do you think your indifference and neglect will have on the rising generation?

Dudley Lodge F. & A. M. was installed at Orlando, Saturday, by Mr. J. A. Landrum, acting as proxy from the Grand Master. At present the lodge is simply working under dispensation, but will be granted a charter at the next meeting of the Grand Lodge which will be in next month. The following are the officers: Henry Smith, W. M.; H. C. Owens, S. W.; Louis Reams, J. W.; Rev. William Williams, S. D.; J. B. Reams, J. D.; Solomon Ball, Sec'y; Willis Johnson, Treas.; and Jno. R. Reams, Tyler. After the work of organization had been completed, a great feast was spread. The lodge has purchased the upper half of the Chenault store room from J. A. Wood for a lodge room.

NARROW ESCAPE.—On last Wednesday as they were returning from the Baptist Association, the team which A. W. Stewart was driving became frightened and started to run. Mr. Stewart was thrown from the wagon but continuing to hold to the lines was drug for some distance, part of the time under the wagon, receiving many bad bruises and cuts about the head and body and for several days, it was feared that he was hurt internally. In the wagon with him was his wife, who was thrown from her seat to the ground, remaining unconscious for some time and the latest report from her says she is still in rather a serious condition. Mrs. Nannie C. Albright, who was also in the wagon, was thrown against a fence and received some rather painful but not serious injuries. Mr. Stewart's youngest daughter, a step-daughter of Mr. A. B. Brannaman and T. C. Bullen, all jumped from the wagon without any injuries whatever. Mrs. D. N. Williams, the most aged of them all, when the team was going at "break-neck" speed, made a jump for her life, with the result of a little soreness was successfully made. In a short time after Mrs. Williams left the wagon, it struck a tree and one of the wheels was completely demolished.

No empty houses in Mt. Vernon. Houses being built, are all spoken for.

There will be services at the Presbyterian church Sunday morning and evening.

The Rockcastle Association United Baptist, was in session three days this week with the Mt. Pisgah Church.

Work on the dormitory is progressing nicely and same will be ready for occupancy by the time for the opening of the school in October.

Rome Adams came up from Livingston Wednesday to make arrangements to move here today, but after arriving decided to remain in Livingston, and bought of R. B. Mullins a house and lot adjoining the property of J. A. Mullins, for which he paid $400.

The hickory supply at the handle mill has been simply immense and more "a comin'". This enterprise brings much money into the county. The mill is just humpin' itself, working eleven hours per day. Arrangements are being made to ship in car load lots from various stations on the line to Mt. Vernon to be saved up.

Mr. J. G. Hackley, who spent two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Hackley, has returned to his home in New York City—Interior Journal—Mr. Hackley is an electrical engineer and has held for years a fine position with the Western Electric Co., the largest electrical firm in the world. Mr. H. is a nephew of Jas. Maret, of this place; from whom he picked up his electrical ambition.

CENTENARIAN EXPECTS TO LIVE UNTIL 200.

"Yes, I expect to live right here in Brooklyn until I'm 200 years old," says Mrs. Elizabeth Hunt, who is picking up her suit case to go to Meriden, Conn., and celebrate her 105th birthday in the home of Mrs. Emma Holman, one of her twenty grandchildren.

Mrs. Hunt is as spry and chipper as any belle of East New York and to talk to old people bores her as it bores a school girl.

"Tell me the news," she says to all her young visitors. "I'm tired of ancient history."

When one reflects that Mrs. Hunt was born the year after George Washington died and that she was more than sixty years old when Abraham Lincoln was elected President, she carries one back a long way.

Mrs. Hunt was going to school in Lancaster, Pa., where she was born, when Aaron Burr killed Alexander Hamilton and Lord Nelson swept away the combined fleets of Spain and France at Trafalgar. The victories of her childhood days.

When she was sixteen years of age she met and shook hands with Gen. Lafayette in New York. Distinctly impressed upon her memory is the battle of Tippecanoe, when Gen. Harrison defeated Prophet, the brother of Tecumseh. She also remembers the excitement which prevailed at Lancaster, Pa., her native town, when the news reached there of the British attack upon the city of Baltimore, September 12 and 13, 1814. She was married as George IV. ascended the throne. She had three children before Martin Van Buren was elected President of the United States.

Still, she wants to live longer. If she could take the boat up the Sound for Bridgeport in August, 2000, and go to Meriden to celebrate her 200th birthday, she thinks she would then be ready to die. But she is afraid all her grandchildren will be dead before that time, and to have no nearer relatives than great-grandchildren would, she thinks, make her lonely.

Mrs. Hunt does not attribute her long life to any particular manner of living. She has always lived plainly and regularly. She eats even to-day, all of the ordinary foods, and otherwise lives just as her friends and relatives do. One of her great-grandchildren will go with her to Meriden, but she says an escort is perfectly useless, as she is fully capable of taking care of herself at home and abroad.

John E. Baldwin, an aeronaut, of Losantville, Ind., was blown to shreds with his balloon at a height of 1,500 feet at Greenville, O. He was giving an exhibition of the use of dynamite from a balloon for war purposes and had six sticks of the explosives with him. When he was 1,500 feet in the air by some accident the dynamite exploded and the balloon and man were literally torn to fragments.

SAYS AN EXCHANGE.

"Thousands of people will be shocked by his avowal that Christianity has a meaning even in the problems of daily life; even in the choice of office of good men or of bad. Who will deny the truth of what he says, and yet how many will find it really shocking to declare in audible tones that religion reaches into such a humdrum as depositing a piece of paper at the polls? The man who wrote that article disbelieves some things which Peimacker, Murphy and Rockefeller believe, but as a citizen he has never failed to do his duty, just as if every accepted declaration of the copybook were a truth."

"If Christians should vote their duty to God at the polls, they would carry every election, and do it with ease. They would elect every clean candidate in the United States, and defeat every soiled one. Their prodigious power would be quickly realized, and afterward there would be no unclean candidates upon any ticket, and graft would cease. No church organization can be found in the country that would elect men of foul character to be its shepherd its treasurer, and superintendent of its Sunday-school. It would be revolted at the idea; it would consider such an election an insult to God."

"Can a man imagine such a thing as God being a Republican or a Democrat and voting for a criminal or a blackguard merely because party loyalty required it? Then can we imagine that a man can improve upon God's attitude in this matter, and by help of professional politicians invent a better policy? God has no politics but cleanliness and honesty, and it is good enough for men."

"A man's second duty is to his family. There was a time when a clergyman's duty to his family required him to be his congregation's political slave, and vote his congregation's ticket in order to safeguard the food and shelter of his wife and children. But that time has gone by. We have the secret ballot now, and a clergyman can vote for God. He can also plead with his congregation to do the like."

"Perhaps. We cannot be sure. The congregation would probably inquire whom he was going to vote for, and if he stood upon his manhood and answered that they had no Christian right (which is the same as saying no moral right, and, of course, no legal right) to ask the question, it is conceivable—not to say certain—that they would dismiss him, and be much offended at his proposing to be a minister as a clergyman."

"Still, there are clergymen who are so situated as to be able to make the experiment. It would be worth while to try it. If the Christians of America could be persuaded to vote God and a clean ticket, it would bring about a moral revolution that would be incalculably beneficial. It would save the country—a country whose Christians have betrayed it and are destroying it."

The Russian press and people are said to be taking a more favorable view of the proposed National Assembly.

EXCURSIONS TO THE WEST

To the Pacific Coast—to California, Oregon, Washington—round-trip, long transit and return limits, liberal stop-over privileges.

The rate is practically on the basis of one fare for the round trip. Of course, if you wish to visit both California and Oregon or Washington, the cost is slightly more.

These reduced rates are in effect on certain dates in months of May to October, inclusive. They apply from all Eastern points via Chicago, St. Louis or Memphis gateways. The Rock Island System will take you up in either Chicago or St. Louis, or at hundreds of other Middle West points and carry you to the Coast in through Standard or Tourist Sleepers with unexcelled Dining Car service. The Rock Island also affords a choice of routes: on the "Scenic" route you can stop off in Colorado—see Salt Lake City—visit Yellowstone National Park; on the "Southern" route you can go via El Paso, thru New Mexico, then "up coast" to San Francisco and on to Portland or Seattle if desired.

In short, these Pacific Coast excursions offer an unusually good chance to see our western country in a comprehensive manner.

If you desire to go only as far as Colorado, there are excursion rates in effect to that section and return, all summer long, specially reduced June 30 to July 4, August 12 and 13, and August 30 to September 4. Extension trips to Ogden or Salt Lake and return at low cost also.

From September 15 to October 31, 1905, one-way tourist or "colonist" tickets will be on sale to California and the Pacific Northwest—about half regular fare.

If interested, send name and address on this coupon, designating which booklet wanted and to what point you plan to go. Name probable date of start also, so we can advise definitely with respect to rates, etc.

Send Colorado California booklet and rates.
